

//I have to tell you that AHA! is a tremendous asset in our community, and has done incredible work with our high school students, starting with Santa Barbara High School and then with San Marcos High School and La Cuesta... in particular, they've created the Peace Builders program, which has just been fantastic from my perspective—not just as a professional, but as a human being in our community. Having students exercise leadership skills and build peace, and then become adults in our community...it's just awe-inspiring.//
